Peter practises in a diverse range of areas, but focuses principally on commercial, corporations, equity, and family law matters. He has also appeared in numerous commissions of inquiry.

Peter is skilled at identifying the real issues in a matter, both legal and commercial, and adopts an effective and sensible approach to resolving cases. He is particularly well regarded for his effective communication with clients and opposing lawyers, a valuable commodity for achieving sound commercial outcomes.

Prior to commencing at the Sydney Bar in 2004, Peter practised at the Johannesburg Bar. In 1996 Peter relocated with his family to Sydney and practised as a solicitor for 8 years, the majority of that time as a partner at Atanaskovic Hartnell in insurance and commercial litigation.
