Cases

Lucas is widely acknowledged in jurisdictions around the world as a leading counsel in all such forms of international disputes, with wide experience in commercial litigation, commercial and investor-state arbitrations, enforcement and immunity proceedings, and multi-jurisdictional commercial disputes. He has appeared in general commercial matters in Australian Courts, and handled several arbitrations with an Australian connection. His experience covers a wide array of sectors, including oil and gas, mining, power, telecommunications, engineering/procurement/construction, entertainment and leisure, information technology, financial services, real estate, aircraft, airline and airport services, media, manufacturing, advertising, taxation, and others. This depth and diversity of experience has placed him at the heart of some of the most complex international dispute issues and cases of the past decade, including appearing or advising on such matters up to the apex court of several jurisdictions, on issues such as waiver of State immunity by arbitration clauses, the operation of hybrid arbitration clauses, scope of orders in assistance of arbitration, scope of remission to arbitral tribunals, the appropriate scope of security for costs, the role of referees, and the proper basis of appeals on such matters.

Commercial litigation

Lucas has led large and complex commercial litigation disputes. He has particular experience in arbitration-related court proceedings (in which he has been instructed in some of the largest set aside and enforcement proceedings in the world), e.g.:

Fluor Australia Pty Ltd & Anor v Santos Limited – appeal in relation to findings by first instance judge and panel of referees in relation to large EPC contract before the Queensland Court of Appeal

Quaid-e-Azam Thermal Power (Private) Ltd v Sui Northern Gas Pipelines Ltd – challenge to an arbitral award under s 68 of the UK Arbitration Act 1996, with proceedings for challenge to procedure adopted by tribunal
